

Discover the World of Communication

Museum of Communication
Nuremberg

Discover, understand, create communication

From the posthorn to web 2.0, the museum illustrates human communication through sounds, pictures, writing, and the internet. In the four exhibition rooms, the functional mechanisms of communication are made tangible. Hands-on stations such as the writing workshop or the tube mail invite both children and adults to become active themselves.

Education

We offer extensive educational programmes for all age groups.
